Rationale for Requesting Access (Please summarize the work you plan to do using the SDC):

Please select the workstation of your choice, for which you would need access. If you do not have any specific requirements for workstations or programming tools, the default workstation will be assigned to you for accessing the datasets.

Default Workstation is a Windows workstation that comes with Microsoft-R, Rstudio, Python pre-installed and configured to use.

Workstation Name	Operating System	Programming Tools	Require Access (Y/N)
Programming Environment #1	Windows	Microsoft-R, Rstudio, Python, Microsoft Power BI, SQL Server Management Studio, SQL Workbench, Open Office, Firefox
Programming Environment #2	Linux	Microsoft-R, Rstudio, R Studio Server, Python, Firefox, Jupyter Notebook

NOTE : If you require any additional software, please email support@securedatacommons.com. For all licensed softwares, you are expected to bring your own license.

SDC Data Use Terms and Conditions

The use of the SDC system is subject to the following terms:

- Access to the SDC system does not imply access to all the available datasets included in the SDC Platform. Users need to request access to specific datasets available in the platform.
- Data Use, distribution terms for specific data sets are governed by the restrictions set by the data provider and will be noted when requesting access.
- For individual datasets included in the SDC platform, the USDOT does not guarantee its quality, completeness, or availability beyond what is made available by the data provider.
- The SDC allows users to publish and share results of their analysis and derived data to other users of the SDC. The USDOT does not guarantee the quality or the completeness of any of the user-created data or analytic procedures available on the platform.
- Data from and analysis of the SDC POC may not be publicly disclosed without prior consent from DOT, OCIO, the OST Office of Public Affairs.
- Once consent is obtained, the user must acknowledge in all oral or written presentations, disclosures, or publications the use of specific dataset(s), the SDC platform as part of their activities.

Applicable USDOT Standards, Terms and Conditions

In addition, the use of the SDC system is subject by the following USDOT standards and requirements:

- You are accessing a U.S. Government information system. This information system, including all related equipment, networks, and network devices, is provided for U.S. Government-authorized use only. Unauthorized or improper use of this system is prohibited, and may result in civil and criminal penalties, or administrative disciplinary action. The communications and data stored or transiting this system may be, for any lawful Government purpose, monitored, recorded, and subject to audit or investigation. By using this system, you understand and consent to such terms. For details on how we use your information, please see our Privacy Policy

Failure to comply with these terms may result in termination of the user account for the site and associated data in those accounts.

☐ I agree to the terms and conditions of the SDC and USDOT for using the SDC platform.
